Behaviour Principles Written Statement

Vision

We believe passionately in the power of education to change lives. So, we teach an ambitious curriculum for everyone and we help our children to learn important values to live by. We do this with integrity and kindness to inspire Bell Farm children to grow up into amazing people who can go far in their lives and change the world for the better.

At Bell Farm we expect our children to be ready to learn, respectful and safe

Values

All children are entitled to an education of the highest quality which is relevant and challenging, set in a safe, secure and nurturing environment. We aim to be fair to all pupils and enable everyone to work together with our shared values to promote positive behaviour. We will promote the highest levels of citizenship so that the children can go forward with an independent joy of learning and team working skills that will serve them for life.

School commitments

- We create a climate where everyone can learn and achieve
- We have a NO SHOUTING POLICY
- We respond positively and calmly to children and their ideas
- We set high standards in all areas of school life
- We make each child feel that they have the ability to succeed
- We all play an important role in modelling expectations and demonstrating our school values in their everyday practice
- We apply class charters firmly and fairly, praising appropriately

High Expectations for all

- We have the right to learn and work in a safe environment and to be treated fairly
- We are all responsible for supporting the rights of others and ourselves
- Each child has a responsibility for their own actions and that rights come with choices and consequences, which help us take responsibility for our mistakes and support us to make the right choices in the future
- We have a Bell Farm ladder to respond to both positive and negative behaviour
- Good pupil behaviours come about from a joint approach between school and home

We need to build confidence and self-esteem, and show empathy and understanding

Everyone belongs at Bell Farm
